

Hot Topics & New Laws in Criminal, Domestic Violence & Family Law

Andy Lukas,
Chief Deputy District
Attorney

Andrew Lukas is a Chief Deputy District Attorney at the Sonoma County District Attorney's Office. Mr. Lukas supervises cases involving sexual assault, child abuse, and domestic violence.

Lynette Brown,
Deputy Public Defender

Lynette Brown has worked as a Deputy Public Defender in Sonoma County since 2010. During her time in the office, she has represented clients in a wide variety of misdemeanor and felony assignments at hearings, motions and jury trials. She is currently assigned to work on post-conviction relief litigation. Ms. Brown graduated from Empire College School of Law and is a Santa Rosa native.

Traci Carrillo,
Perry, Johnson, Anderson, Miller
& Moskowitz, LLP

Ms. Carrillo's practice includes all aspects of criminal law, which include representing victims in criminal investigation and criminal court, pursuant to Marsy's Law. She has specialized experience in handling sexual assault, domestic violence, child abuse, and homicide. Ms. Carrillo handles all aspects of family law, with a specialized focus on domestic violence, restraining orders and child custody. She effectively uses her experience as a prosecutor and trial attorney to achieve excellent results on behalf of her clients.

Our dynamic speakers will share updates on newly passed legislation for 2023 and discuss hot topics in Criminal, Domestic Violence and Family Law.

1 hour of General MCLE Credit

DATE: Thursday, March 9, 2023
HOW: Virtual Forum via Zoom

TIME: Noon to 1:30 p.m.

RSVP by noon on Tuesday, March 7, 2023 to Nicole Jaffee at jaffee@perrylaw.net

Please also send this completed form & check to: Sonoma County Women in Law, PO Box 15089, Santa Rosa, CA 95402

OR Pay online at www.sonomacountywomeninlaw.com for Zoom log-in information

___ $10 (student) ___ $15 (member) ___ $25 (non-member)

NAME: _____